ARTIST FROM MARYLAND TRIES TO CAPTURE THE BEAUTY OF THE ULTRAMARINE AND LIME GREEN OF SURF BELOW, STIRRED AND CHURNING IN A STONE POT.

COVER - Seventy feet above the sea on a cliff carved with the frozen rock of a primeval lava flow, the outlook from Pemaquid Light is spectacular. Every day of the summer great numbers of tourists are drawn to this spot and lose themselves in the immensity of stone which flows upward from the sea like a giant stairway carved by the force of the surf. On a day when the surf is charged with energy drawn from the Atlantic wide open to Europe, this cauldron stirs with awesome power. On those days when the sea literally boils, a spectator can sit on a pinnacle of rock and look directly down into a force which raises the hair on the nape of the neck. This is truly the power of an almighty. In imagination, you can picture this force unleashed on a winter storm crashing against the cliff with such fury that it blasts the paint from the horn house seventy feet high on the cliff and tosses Volkswagen-size rock-like pebbles against the cliff face, ever remodeling and eroding the ribs of Maine.

The Lighthouse itself will be very familiar to any Mattapoisett dweller because it is identical if you disregard the surrounding buildings to Ned's Point Light. Just as Mattapoisett was the "place of rest" for vacationing Indians, Pemaquid was a magnet for Maine Indians on trading outings to the coast. Only 5 minutes away is the restored Fort William Henry built on the site of a series of previous forts which were built on the foundation of the original trading spot at the mouth of the river flowing from Damariscotta. The quiet peace of that wide estuary is in marked contrast with the neighboring Pemaquid Point on the very same minute of the same day. The Indians who paddled down this quiet, beautiful waterway must have experienced the same awe inspiring thunder at Pemaquid that every man, woman and child must feel on meeting the untappable power of the fluid that gives life to planet earth.

Selectmen's Meeting

WIND POWER PROPOSED

The Cape Cod area which was the site of many windmills in the previous century may experience a comeback of this power according to information given to Mattapoisett Selectmen by Charles Coleman and Steve Parker of Environomics of New Bedford. In a presentation to the Selectmen of the advantages and requirements of this source of electric power, these two representatives described Mattapoisett as a probable efficient for wind generators. According to U. S. Government studies, they said, this area is more suitable for wind generation of power that's effective for solar energy. The average wind speed for efficient power generation must exceed 8 miles per hour. Mr. Coleman said the average for Mattapoisett is 15 miles per hour. There are many other things that come into play which have to be checked before an installation can be made such as hills or trees that may deflect the wind flow and the height of the tower which is a critical factor in efficiency - each 20 feet of tower means an increase of significant nature to the efficiency of the generator. The described modern wind generation is a proven method from Admiral Byrd station which operated at the South Pole for 22 years, to railway signals in remote areas that operated with power from wind generators, to airway beacons to remote farms electrified by their own wind generation.

Zoning restrictions in Mattapoisett now would ban installation of windmill towers which range from 60 feet to 160 feet. Building Inspector Jonathan DePina said that he had talked to the Dartmouth Building Inspector to see how that town allows installation. He found that zoning restricts buildings to 35 feet or under but allows appendages such as wind towers, etc. as an exception.

Chairman William Hubbard asked Town Counsel Donald Fleming for his view. Attorney Fleming said that it would be an esthetic change for the town with possible flood zone problems and would certainly require structural engineers' approval. The Selectmen decided that the best approach to the problem would be to organize a study committee to look at all of the pros and cons so that when the town meeting convenes a presentation could be made based on the best information available. Selectmen are asking that any person interested in serving on such a committee submit their name and resume to the Selectmen's office at the Town Hall.

11th Annual Road Race

For the second year in a row Doug Olney has won the Mattapoisett Road Race. His first place time of 26:24.6 is the second fastest time for the five mile challenging course record. Doug started out quickly and was able to hold off second place finisher Bob Malm (27:09). Doug and Bob have held down the first and second positions for two consecutive years. Third place went to Dick Lindsay 28:16.1 while Tad Pierce, 28:16.5 nailed down the fourth place honors.

Rochester's Birthday Party

ROCHESTER TO CELEBRATE 302nd

The Town of Rochester will celebrate its 302nd birthday with a gala scheduled for Sunday, July 12th.

A Cocktail-Hors d'Oeuvre reception will be held from 5 to 7 p.m. and will honor several prominent Rochester citizens and guests. This will be catered by The Stable Restaurant. Honored guests will be John Sears, Boston City Councilman; Mr. Anthony Athanas, former Rochester resident who has maintained an active interest in the town over the years, present owner of Anthony's Pier 4 Restaurant in Boston; Dr. Maurice Robbins, a Marion summer resident for over 40 years, state archaeologist and historian; Mrs. Anna White of Rochester, for her many years of outstanding service to the Town of Rochester; the following who have re-

The reception will also feature a display of artwork and memorabilia of Old Rochester, including paintings of the late Charles Matthews of Rochester.

From 7:30 to 11 p.m. the Dick Donovan Band, a nineteen piece group, will recreate the big band sound of the 40's. The band is characterized by smart bandstand presence (blazers and ties) and always disciplined musicianship. Songs by "Sophia" are reminiscent of the best of Helen Forrest and Keely Smith.

Donovan has a great feel for public taste and, therefore, sticks to the biggies of the 20's and 40's - although he will let fly a token polka, cha-cha, waltz, etc. The band plays many of the identical arrangements of the great bands of yore - such as Glen Miller's "In the Mood" or "Moonlight Serenade", Artie Shaw's "Begin the Beguine", Tommy Dorsey's "Marie", or Benny Goodman's "Stompin' at the Savoy" and many more. In addition he has many of his own solid arrangements of the great standards of yesteryear.

For today's young set, the band has a new

"BY THEIR OWN HANDS"

The Mattapoisett Historical Society will be running a special exhibit of folk art created during the 1700s and 1800s. This work is mostly from the Plymouth County. The show will run for the month of July during museum hours: Tuesday through Saturday, 2 to 4 p.m.

This exhibit is as varied in shape and character as the people who produced it. The show is strong and speaks of exuberant pride, cherished ideals, individual aspirations and that basic intrinsic need for a person to produce a thing of beauty while making a serviceable object.

The folk artist --- farmer, decoy maker, weaver, whaler, school girl, whatever their walk of life, used the natural materials they had - barn board to straw. Their use of simple outline is prevalent throughout the works, as well as the lack of perspective, thus culminating in a more designed rather than lifelike portrayal. They saw life as it was happening and had the ability to express this with childlike naivete, the ingredient that gives this work such charm. These untaught artists created some of the most beautiful furniture by their use of restraint in contrast to the favorite curved line or scroll.

One must only come away from this show with a new sense of reverent appreciation and awareness of this segment of American art done by the "people's own hands and heart". Their art is bold and functional; it tells a story, it can suggest a longing for those things that were out of reach, it can be a grandfather's toy made for a child or a whirlgig made by a boy to keep the birds from his mother's garden, it can be so many things. Our appreciation of this era in American art needs only to be enlightened to give us great joy, and this show is a start.

ing both singles and doubles in 10 game prosets. Returning A Division Champ Ray Carvalho will be tested by returner Roger Ames, the league's number one seed, and newcomer Dave Downing. In the doubles anyone could walk away with the evenly balanced teams.

Physical examinations for ORR High School students, Grades 10-12, who plan to participate in the interscholastic athletic program during the 1981-1982 school year, will be conducted by Dr. Frederick Moore at the Junior High School August 24 and 25 from 8 a.m. to 10 a.m.

Entering 9th graders who wish to try out for ORR fall athletic teams will be examined by Dr. Moore on Thursday, September 10th, between 2 and 4 p.m. at the high school.

Failure of the student athletes to be examined on the assigned days will mean that he or she will not be permitted to participate until proof of physical examination at parents' expense is provided the Athletic Department.

Thank You

My sincere thanks to the teaching staff at Old Rochester Regional for the beautiful hanging basket, and to all personnel for the wonderful retirement parties.

Joseph and Mary Clark of Needham and Antassawamock were honored on their 50th wedding anniversary Sunday, June 28th. The Clarks were married June 29th in 1931. Seventy-five people attended the gathering, many from Needham and Antassawamock. The only two people to attend both their wedding and their anniversary party were their niece and nephew who came from Pennsylvania with their grandnieces for the event. Mr. and Mrs. Clark have two daughters, Mary Barkley of Duxbury, and Joan Morris of Springfield; 9 grandchildren, 7 of whom were at the party. Both the Clarks are veterans of World War I. Children's Museum

NEW GAMES TOURNAMENT

The Children's Museum of Dartmouth will be holding a "New Games Tournament" at the Whaling City Festival from 2 to 4 on Saturday, July 11th. New Games are a different kind of approach to recreation. They can be played outdoors, indoors, by people young, old, or in between. Some new games are very quiet and sedate. Others can be strenuous as lacrosse, but all new games aim to help participants rediscover the joy of running and playing just for the fun of it. New Games encourage everyone to participate, sometimes one on one, sometimes forty or fifty at a time. New Games are a celebration of play for the sake of play and are truly based on the idea that it's more important to have fun than to win. New Games require a minimum of equipment and have virtually no impact on the play area. They were first organized in San Francisco in 1966 by a man named Stewart Broad, but the spirit of New Games is in everyone, and only needs a chance to be expressed.

Some games that will be held at the tournament include: Hunker Hawser, Parachute Games, Smaug's Jewels, Dragon's Tail, Part of the Game is to change the rules to improve it. Sometimes a group may even invent a brand new New Games and this is what it is all about. at the Museum. The program will include stirring marches, overtures, popular hit tunes, show music and some symphonic numbers.

Four nights later, Lee Childs and The Bourbon Street Paraders return to Heritage Plantation of Sandwich on Wednesday evening, July 15, at 7:30 p.m. Long popular favorites on Cape Cod, they are known for their lively style. This is a Dixieland Band that strikes a beautiful blend of showmanship and musical integrity. Using a sound heavy in brass to create a musical form distinctly its own, it is the sound born in the night spots, halls and streets of New Orleans. The leader and vocalist is the free-wheeling Lee Childs of Dennis. His smooth clarinet is influenced by Benny Goodman, and his preferences are Dixieland and swing rather than the more contemporary sounds of today.

Membership and admission tickets for those days will be honored for the concerts. Heritage Plantation is less than one mile from the old Town Hall in Sandwich along Grove Street. For further information please call 888-3300.

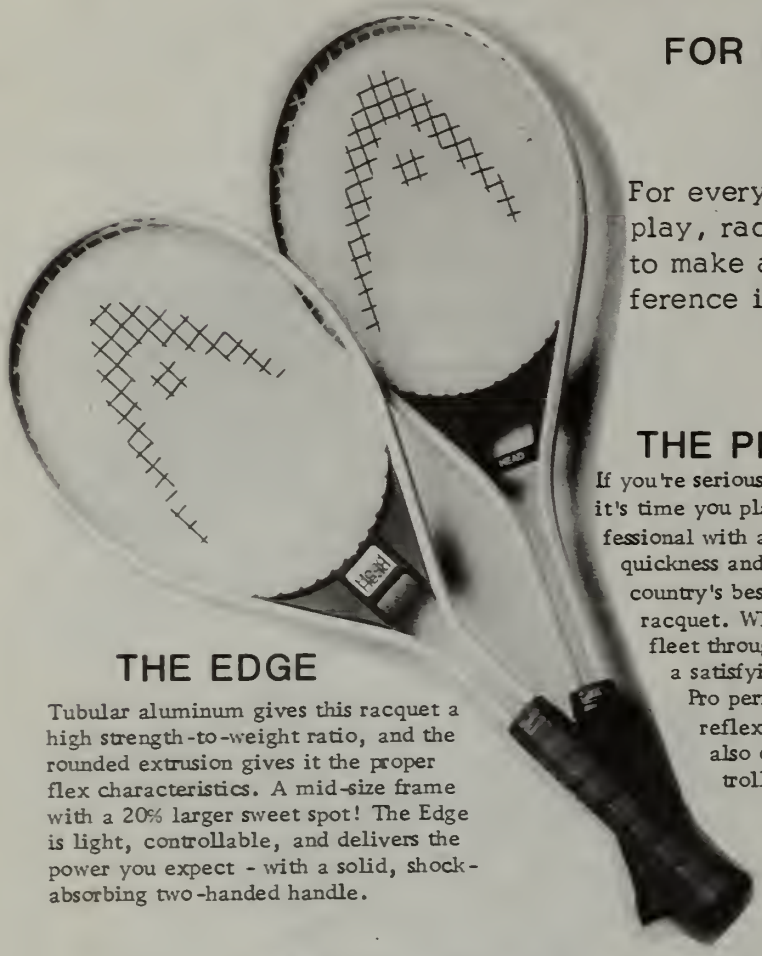
FOR TENNIS



FOR POWER WITHOUT PRETENSE

HEAD

For every level of play, racquets built to make a real difference in your game.

THE GRAPHITE EDGE

For the advanced player who demands the generous performance of a mid-size racquet and the light, precision control of the conventional size frame. More than lightweight response, it combines a solid hit with an almost uncanny feel for the ball.

THE PRO

If you're serious about your game, it's time you played the Head Professional with a reputation for quickness and power. This is the country's best selling metal racquet. While extremely fleet through the air, it gives a satisfying, solid feel. The Pro performs well in quick reflex volleys, but is also outstanding for controlled ground strokes.

THE LEGEND

Volleys like a dream. Its radical shape adds pace and reach to ground strokes and explosive power to your serve.

THE EDGE

Tubular aluminum gives this racquet a high strength-to-weight ratio, and the rounded extrusion gives it the proper flex characteristics. A mid-size frame with a 20% larger sweet spot! The Edge is light, controllable, and delivers the power you expect - with a solid, shock-absorbing two-handed handle.

THE XRC

An unquestioned performer, perfectly at home in world class play. Easy to handle. No matter how good you get, you won't outgrow this racquet.

Also by HEAD: Canvas Tennis Shoes, Bags, Clothing and a complete selection of racquets.
